Introduction

This report summarizes the 2024 National Tribal Forum on Air Quality (NTFAQ) and the National Tribal Air Association’s (NTAA) Annual Member Tribe Meeting. This year’s NTFAQ was hosted by The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians (EBCI) and occurred in Cherokee, NC on May 6-9, 2024.

Located in Cherokee, North Carolina, the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians were once part of a much larger Cherokee Nation population. However, when the Trail of Tears was mandated, and forced removal and relocation were directed by the United States government and then President Andrew Jackson, the Cherokee Tribe became divided into what is known today as the Cherokee Nation and United Kituwah Band located in Oklahoma, and the Eastern Band, made up of those who remained and rebuilt within North Carolina’s Qualla Boundary (sometimes called the Cherokee Indian Reservation). The Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians is a Sovereign Nation, meaning it has its own laws, elections, government, and institutions.

The theme of this year’s NTFAQ was Environmental Action in Native Communities, with a focus on local and national efforts to advance air quality protection, climate change awareness, and environmental action in Tribal communities.

This report includes a narrative summary, data on NTFAQ attendees, lessons learned, and several appendices including:

- Appendix A: Agenda of the 2024 National Tribal Forum on Air Quality,
- Appendix B: NTFAQ Participant Feedback,
- Appendix C: Photos from the 2024 National Tribal Forum on Air Quality,
- Appendix D: Thank You to Attendees of the 2024 National Tribal Forum on Air Quality.

This year's NTFAQ was the 17th year that ITEP and the NTAA co-sponsored the conference, and the 24th year that ITEP has hosted the NTFAQ in general. This year's conference agenda included three (3) offsite field trips and educational tours (1 was cancelled due to weather), nine (9) pre-conference trainings, and thirty-nine (39) breakout sessions and presentations, a welcome event (including snacks, music, and games), an opening general session including an opening prayer and posting of colors. Thomas Belt, Scholar and Distinguished Cherokee Elder, provided the keynote speech.

The week also included networking round tables, panel discussions, the NTFAQ eco-café, and concurrent breakout sessions. Last year's first Tribal Environmental Movie night, where short films/documentaries of Tribal environmental issues were shared, was such a success that it was brought back in 2024. Charly Lowry, Indigenous singer/songwriter, emceed the event and also performed during the NTAA Member Tribe Luncheon.

Other main events include the annual Virgil Masayeva Awards Ceremony, the NTAA Member Tribe Luncheon, and the Breath of Fresh Air Fun Run that raised $1,259 for the Kituwah Academy to 'provide a nurturing learning environment in a language immersion setting where students, staff, families, and the community work in partnership to rekindle our language and to instill pride in being "Kituwah First"'. Those in attendance included 216 participants, of whom 117 were Tribal participants representing 72 Tribes, 53 were vendors, 13 were ITEP staff, and 33 were EPA staff.

The annual NTFAQ feedback form was sent directly to all 216 participants' email addresses and was highlighted in NTAA's Weekly Updates. The form garnered 66 responses. Overall, a majority of attendees were either 'very satisfied' or 'highly satisfied' with the event. This year's NTFAQ saw many new faces and comments received show a great appreciation for the networking opportunities that were provided. Suggestions for improvements will be seriously considered during the planning for the 2025 NTFAQ.

The 2024 NTAA Annual Member Tribe Meeting

The purpose of the NTAA Annual Member Tribe Meeting is to mingle with NTAA members, provide information on ongoing work, and receive feedback. This year's meeting included remarks and a presentation by Syndi Smallwood, the NTAA Chairwoman and Region 9 Primary representative. The NTAA bylaws were reviewed and updated, and the group voted to approve the new bylaws effective May 7, 2024. Finally, Charly Lowry performed for the group.

2024 NTFAQ Survey Report

This report compiles the results of a post-event questionnaire regarding attendees' opinions of the event. The questionnaire was sent to all 219 attendees via email and received 66 responses.

Overall Satisfaction

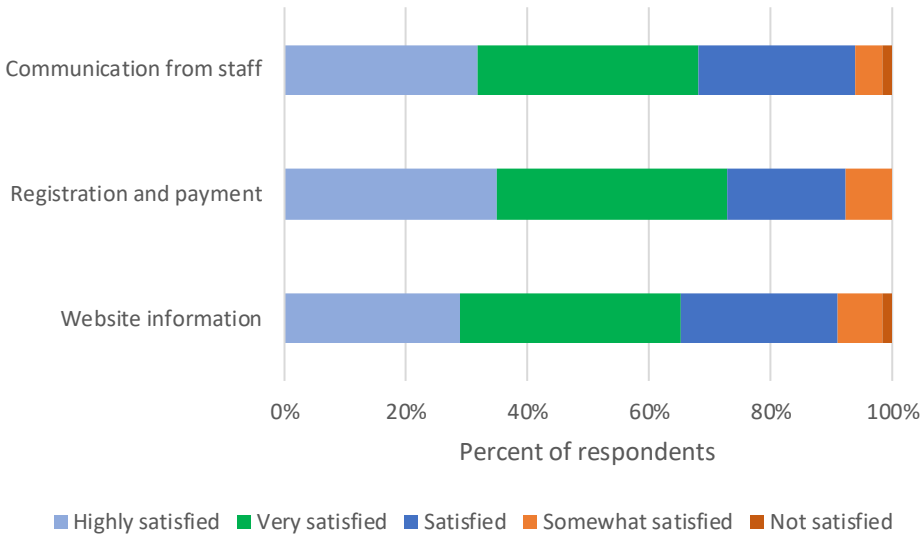

Over 95% of respondents were satisfied with the event.

Likelihood to Recommend Attendance

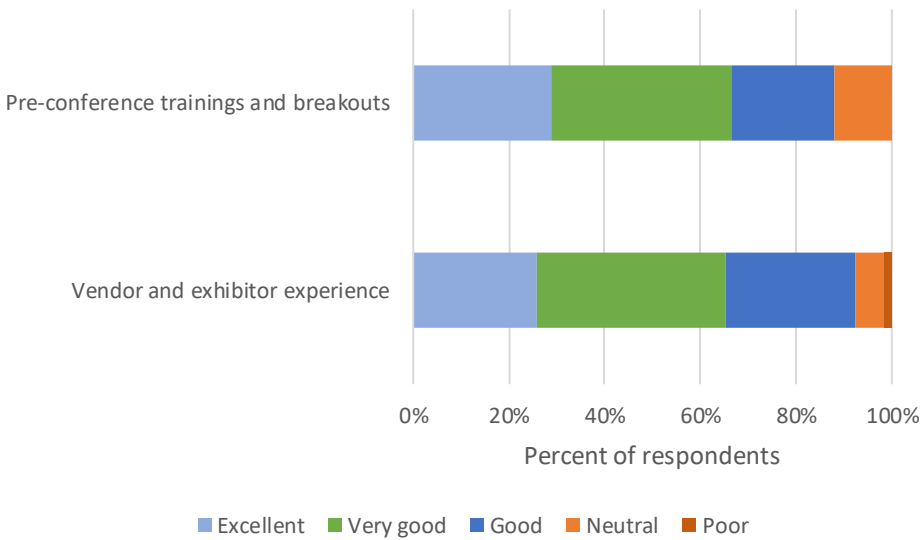

All respondents were likely to recommend NTFAQ to a colleague or co-worker.

Satisfaction with Pre-Event Features

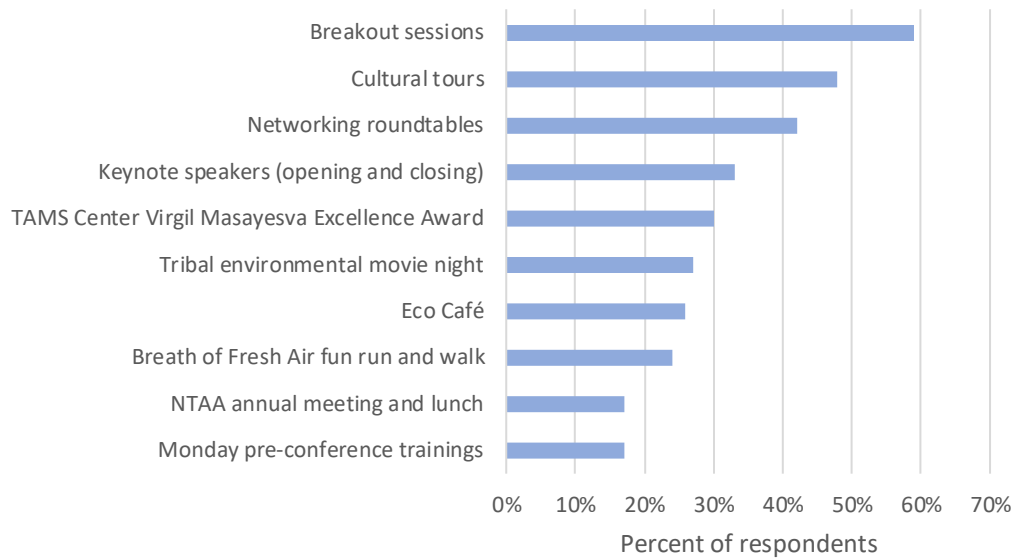

Over 90% of respondents were satisfied with registration and payment, communication from ITEP staff, and the availability of information on the event website.

Ratings of Event Features

Over 87% of respondents positively rated the pre-conference trainings and breakouts, and over 92% of respondents positively rated the vendor and exhibitor experience.

Favorite Event Features

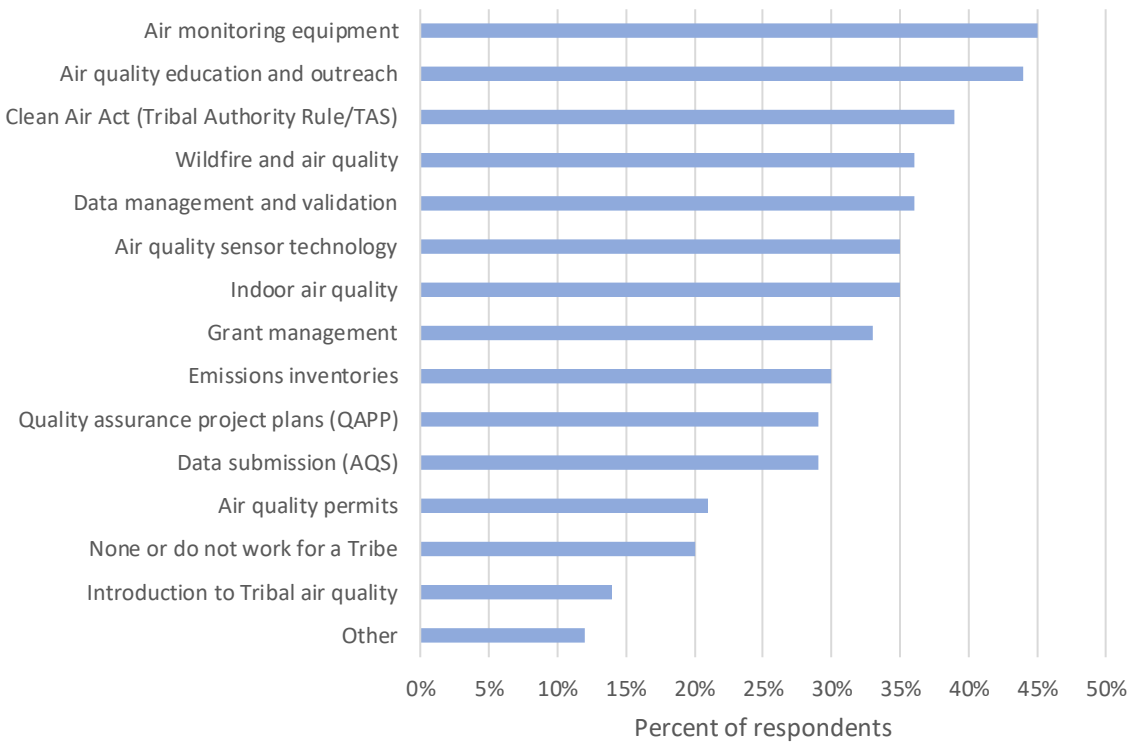

Breakout sessions, cultural tours, and networking roundtables were most frequently cited as respondents’ favorite feature of the conference.

Ratings of the Venue

Respondents ranked the venue’s cleanliness and meeting space highest and the food and beverage the lowest.

Professional Development Opportunities

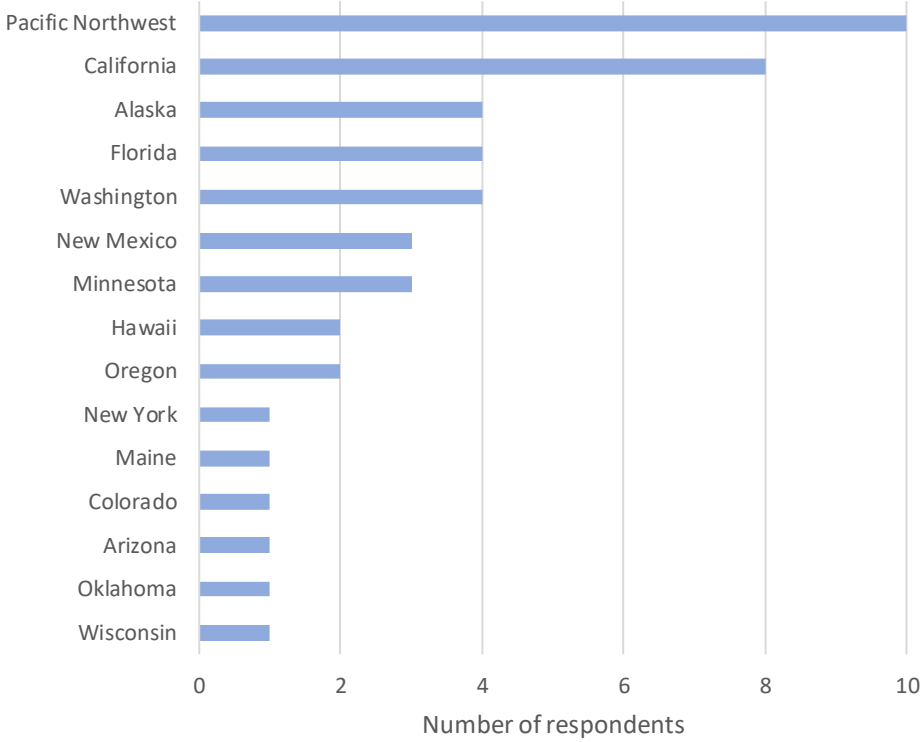

Opportunities related to air monitoring equipment, air quality education and outreach, and the Tribal Authority Rule were most frequently cited as necessary for respondents' jobs.

Improvements for 2025 Event

In response to a qualitative question that asked attendees to share methods to improve NTFAQ for 2025, most respondents wished to see a higher proportion of Tribal presenters as opposed to presentations from EPA staff or vendors. Respondents also wished to receive event information and logistics sooner and to host the event nearer to an airport.

Next NTFAQ Location

The Pacific Northwest was most frequently cited by respondents as the next preferred location for NTFAQ, followed by California (particularly southern California). Less frequently cited locations included Alaska, Florida, and Washington.

Appendix C: Photos from the 2024 NTFAQ

There were several great field trips included in the 2024 NTFAQ.

Attendees had opportunities to see and learn about work being done by the Tribe.

Attendees had many planned and unplanned opportunities to network with other Tribal professionals and vendors.

A performance by the Warriors of Anikithuhwa taught members of the audience several dances during the Tribal Air Program Excellence Awards Dinner.

Johna Boulafentis with the Nez Perce Tribe and Joe Hostler with the Yurok Tribe were the 2024 winners of the Virgil Masayesva Award.

NTFAQ's Second Annual Film Festival was hosted by singer/songwriter Charly Lowry and featured several great environmental films.

50+ Participants joined in on the Breath of Fresh Air Fun Run/Walk which was led by local students who run track. $1,259 dollars were raised in donations to support the Kituwah Academy.

THANK YOU FOR ATTENDING NTFAQ 2024

WE HOPE TO SEE YOU IN 2025!

NTFAQ 2024 was hosted in May 2024 by the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians in Cherokee, North Carolina.
